WPMB NO. 337 OF 2002

Hon. P.C. Verma, J.
Hon. Irshad Hussain, J.

Heard Sri Lok Pal Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner.

The petitioner claims himself to be a public spirited person. He has raised a grievance through this writ petition that the property of the Trust has been sold by the tenant. None of the trustees have come forward to raise this grievance. The property belongs to Trust, which is a juristic person. It cannot be said that the protection of the Trust property is a public interest. Therefore, the petition in the garb of Public Interest Litigation is not maintainable.

The petition is dismissed accordingly.
